GENERAL MANAGER IS A HUMAN DYNAMO

Head of Union Pacific System Who Is Here to Look Over His Road,
Is One of the Great Men of the Railroad World—He Has Unlimited Capacity for Work and Is Equipped
With a Strong Brain.

Superintendent W. A. Whitney returned yesterday morning from a trip of inspection over the Utah division of the Union Pacific, and, in conversation with a Standard reporter, said:

"Everything looks good between Ogden and Rawlins and track conditions are in excellent shape for handling all kinds of traffic this year. Double track work is progressing nicely and other improvements are going along satisfactorily over the entire division."

"I met General Manager Mohler at Rawlins and he was pleased at what he found all along the road west from Omaha. He is spending a day or two at Battle Mountain, Nevada, looking after matters of a personal nature, and will spend a day or two at Ogden on his return from the west."

"In railroad circles Mr. Mohler is called a human dynamo, and has the reputation of resting just about as hard as he works—and that's going some. Describing the general manager of the Union Pacific system a few days ago, a Chicago newspaper says: 'Who's that big man slinging along over there?' asks one man of another, frequently, on the streets of Omaha."

"Why, that's Mohler, the boss of the Union Pacific."

Boss is not the word that Mr. Mohler or his intimates would use; but in the west the strong word is the readiest when folks desire to hit the bull's-eye. And "slinging along" fits the case exactly when you want to describe this human dynamo.

Giant Nimrod

Vice-President Mohler has few or no fads, but he does know when and where to draw the line between the wearing of a hat and the wearing of a top hat, and the recuperating hour that is good because it ignores routine. Mohler is a giant hunter, being a very large man. He is not a giant killer, or a wanton killer, however, but unless his hunting companions be well trained physically, he comes mighty near to being a man-killer in the field.

As Assistant Station Agent

Thinking big all his life, from the Christmas day when he began railroad life as assistant to the station agent at Galt, Ill., a fair span of years back, this man does everything from a large point of view. When he goes hunting, therefore, and hunting is about his only real relaxation—he tackles the job with the idea that healthy physical fatigue is the very best antidote for mental fatigue; that outdoor freshness carries away the stale and settles on one who is compelled to be indoors a great deal, and always working under a full head of steam.

Hunts With Vim

Hunting is a serious business with this athlete from Nature's own mold. He wants results, and he knows that to get results the one desideratum is to push ahead. So Mohler hunts with vim when out after game, and the man who sticks with him during a day

In the field has a consciousness at nightfall that he was a blessed man indeed who invented sleep. Perhaps it is because he also cherishes a similar belief, that the Union Pacific leader travels along through mud and brush with an abandon apparently calculated to test to their full even his strong thighs.

Forced Repression

For a mammoth physical frame such as Mohler boasts a sound night's sleep after a long day of working and pleasure—that's the genesis of his hunting—must be something to be most highly prized; because his thinking machinery must necessarily be pumped almost to a frazzle sometimes. Think of the repression a man in his position must practice, for instance, and then of the many things that shoot to him as a mark, daily and hourly, more or less calculated to create annoyance, if not anger. What a man spits out is not always the relieving thing; what he would like to utter, but must not when holding such a position, oftentimes would be the real relief.

Made for War

So out on the street, moving along strongly and with sure tread; or out in the hunting field, in the broad, free vistas, he is the real man. God, what a warrior he would have made in the brave days of old! That he has had the mettle for the splendid game of the hero days has been proved by every proposition this farmer boy railroad director has been up against. His great physical strength and fine cast of temper are not greater than his powerful, tempered mentality.

Born Right; Lived Right

Born right, Albert L. Mohler has lived right. He is one of the great men of his day who in youth picked with precise choice the life work he wanted to do, and then stuck. In any other line he probably would have achieved leadership, too; but in his own selected line he has been a master spirit from every angle.

Believes in Men

Such a training as this man has had could not fail to make him, as he is today, in the prime of life, a veritable part of the whole railroad life of his immense system. From section hand business to official generalship, and all grades in between, Mohler is posted, and quite letter perfect. Then, too, he believes in men; that, after all, the human equation is the great thing in any task, no matter how seemingly small. The Union Pacific road—and that comprehends every human unit on its rolls—is understood by him from every standpoint. So when he talks to any part of that road, through men or orders, he talks with precise knowledge, and the winning, sustaining note of intelligent sympathy strikes the loyal, responsive chord without whose thrill Mohler and his system would be much less than they are.

Large of Vision

Here is a man in power—invested with really autocratic attributes, who governs and wins because he has sensed what the eternal verities are. His mind, his spiritual outlook, is large in vision, and grasps high possibilities most naturally; yet he never lets his feet get off the earth; but can range the higher altitudes just as fearlessly and as faithfully as he deals with the simplest problem; just as sanely and circumspectly as he discusses small practical details with humble assistants. Men like Vice-President Mohler are undoubtedly blessed and most fortunate in their parentage, away back and immediate. Also, the world is lucky to have them as an asset. They count big, and are worthy the tribute that the fortune they win by merit and work.

FINDINGS OF BOARD OF INQUIRY

APPOINTED TO INVESTIGATE DE-
RAILMENT AT RED DESERT

Trainmen Were on the Alert and Board Exonerates Them
From Blame.

The finding of the board of inquiry appointed to investigate the derailment of a train at Red Desert was received by Superintendent W. A. Whitney last evening. The board consisted of W. W. Daly, a stockman, and secretary of the Carbon County Woolgrowers' association; W. M. Jeffers, assistant superintendent, acting in the absence of the superintendent; D. E. Sullivan, division master mechanic, and G. F. Maitland, division engineer of the Union Pacific. The report is as follows:

In the matter of the derailment of train 2nd 52, Conductor Wm. Hurley, engine 298, Engineer W. Matheson, at the west switch at Red Desert, Wyo., 2:25 a. m., April 6, 1909.

We, the undersigned board of inquiry, find that derailment was due to wheel breaking, right side, forward fair wheel, front truck under L. W. 23779, derailing this car, together with B. & O. 138984, M. & O. 14926, and U. P. 61045. Broken wheel is of the Griffin Wheel company make, cast date December 1, 1908, number X817430.

We further find that this train did not exceed a speed of ten to fifteen miles an hour, Tipton to point of derailment; slow speed occasioned by speed limit of ten miles per hour between points mentioned. Also that there was more or less fire and sparks flying from wheels, due to the action of the brakes in holding train down to this speed on an eight-tenths per cent grade.

All evidence goes to show that train and engineers were on the alert and that, as soon as trainmen on rear end discovered an excessive amount of sparks and fire flying, air brakes were set by conductor from caboose.

It is our opinion that the cause of wheel breaking was due to wheel heating together with poor wheel material. Wheel metal is very porous, of poor material and defective casting. It is also our opinion that cause of wheel heating was due to either the safety hanger on brake beam breaking and dropping down between brake beam and channel iron of truck or the brake shoe breaking and wedging between brake-head and tread wheel. This would not allow brake to release on this wheel. The mate wheel on the same axle, as well as rear pair wheels same truck, show no signs whatever of heating, demonstrating conclusively that some foreign object held the brake shoe up against the tread of wheel.

BOY TAKEN TO JAIL FOR SMOKING PIPE

Galena, Kas., April 13.—Because Ace Raines, 18 years old, son of the postmaster, smoked a pipe today, he was taken to jail. He will face trial Thursday, on the charge of violating the newly-enacted law prohibiting minors from smoking.

He says his parents gave him permission to smoke all he wanted to. He made the mistake of not hiding behind the woodshed, however, during his smoking. He walked along the main street of the town, puffing away and was taken in charge by the police. The Galena authorities say the law, which forbids selling of tobacco to minors will be enforced strictly.

GARDINER AWAITS VERDICT OF JURY

San Francisco, April 13.—For the second time in less than a month Eugene Gardiner, a Kentucky youth, among whose relatives are numbered several prominent lawyers of his native state, including the chief justice of the appellate court, awaits the verdict of the jury which has heard evidence against him on a murder charge. The first trial which ended about two weeks ago, terminated in a disagreement and the second case was submitted to a jury in the United States district court today.

Gardiner is charged with the murder of Joseph Cordoza, a colored boat steerer on the whaler Bowhead, on which the Kentuckian shipped last year before the mast. The fight in which Cordoza received the injuries alleged to have caused his death, occurred while the vessel was in northern waters.

HEAVY FALL OF SNOW IS EXPERIENCED IN MISSOURI

Chillicothe, Mo., April 13.—A heavy snowfall in this part of Missouri yesterday. The temperature dropped to below the freezing point. Fears are entertained that the large apple and peach orchards in this section will be damaged.

GOOD, HONEST, SQUARE-DEAL

Medicines like those of Dr. R. V. Pierce of Buffalo, warrant their makers in printing their every ingredient, which they do, upon their outside wrappers, verifying the correctness of the same under oath. This open publicity places these medicines in a class all by themselves. Furthermore, it warrants physicians in prescribing them largely as they do in their worst cases.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery

Is a most potent alternative or blood-purifier, and tonic or invigorator and acts especially favorably in a curative way upon all the mucous lining surfaces, as of the nasal passages, throat, bronchial tubes, stomach and bowels, curing a large per cent. of catarrhal cases whether the disease affects the nasal passages, the throat, larynx, bronchia, stomach (as catarrhal dyspepsia), liver, bowels (as mucous diarrhea), or other organs.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

Is advised for the cure of one class of diseases only—those peculiar weaknesses, derangements and irregularities peculiar to women. It is a powerful yet gently acting invigorating tonic and nerve.

For weak, worn-out, over-worked women—no matter what has caused the break-down, "Favorite Prescription" will be found most effective in building up the strength, regulating the womanly functions, subduing pain and bringing about a healthy, vigorous condition of the whole system.

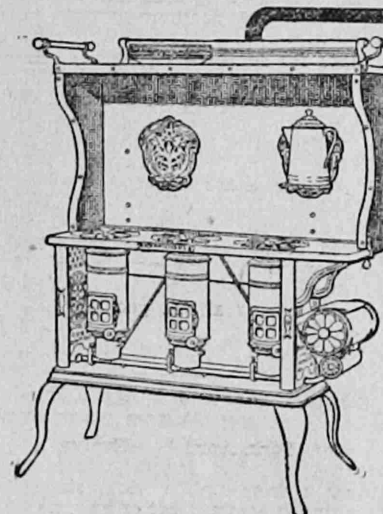

A book of particulars wraps each bottle giving the formulae of both medicines and quoting what scores of eminent medical authors, whose works are consulted by physicians of all the schools of practice as guides in prescribing, say of each ingredient entering into these medicines.

Both medicines are non-alcoholic, non-secret, and contain no harmful habit-forming drugs, being composed of glyceric extracts of the roots of native, American, medicinal, forest plants. They are both sold by dealers in medicine. You can't afford to accept as a substitute for one of these medicines of known composition any secret nostrum. Don't do it.

S.S.S. CURES S.S.S. BLOOD POISON

When the blood becomes infected with the virus of Contagious Blood Poison, the symptoms are soon manifested. The mouth and throat ulcerate, copper-colored spots appear, a red rash breaks out, the hair begins to come out, and usually sores and ulcers show themselves on different parts of the body. At the first sign of the disease S.S.S. should be taken, for the trouble is too powerful and dangerous to trifle with. If allowed to run on the tendency is to work down and attack the bones and nerves, and sometimes it makes a complete physical wreck of the sufferer. The disease can make no such headway if S.S.S. is commenced and used according to directions; its progress can be stopped, the poison removed, and health preserved. S.S.S. goes into the blood and removes the insidious virus, cleanses the circulation and makes a complete and permanent cure by driving out the cause. S.S.S. quickly takes effect on the blood, and gradually the symptoms disappear, the health is improved, the skin cleared of all spots, sores and blemishes, and when S.S.S. has thoroughly purified the circulation no trace of the disease is left. S.S.S., a purely vegetable remedy, cures Contagious Blood Poison because it is the greatest of all blood purifiers, tested and proven for more than forty years. Home treatment book and any medical advice free to all who write.
